

BANGHAY: Building A Network of Gender and Human Rights Advocates in the DYNAMIC New Normal

A training workshop series on GAD mainstreaming in the academe was conducted by the GAD office to help participants gain a working knowledge of integrating GAD in the extension service programs, projects, and activities (PPAs) under the new normal.

Part 1 (Oct 13-14) | ATTUNE: (Adapting Teaching Techniques Underpinned in the New Normal in Education) A GAD Integration in the Curriculum Training-Workshop

Part 2 (Oct 21-22) | ADVANCE: Sulong Extension (Design and Alternative Mode of Delivering Gender Responsive Extension Service PPAs in the New Normal)

Part 3: ADJUST: (Nov 19) | Gendered Dynamics of Research in the New Normal

The training workshop series aimed to capacitate extensionists in the design and formulation of sustainable extension projects, guide extensionists in delivering extension service PPAs using modes other than face-to-face interaction, integrate the GAD perspective in extension PPAs through the use of the Harmonized Gender and Development Guidelines (HGDG), and design gender-responsive extension PPAs.
