The National Engineering University

FREE ACCESS TO MUSEUMS, EXHIBITION SPACES AND GALLERIES

BatStateU's galleries and exhibits are open to the public free of charge. This aligns with the university's goal of promoting art and culture for both students and the public. Here are some of the 2023 exhibits and art competitions hosted by the university that are open to general public.

Public invited to join Pistang Sining

The "Pistang Sining" event, held on February 28, 2023, featured a range of activities, including art competitions, workshops, and a prominent exhibit titled "Harinawa: A Fine Rebirth." This exhibit showcased the creative works of CAFAD students and the Culture and Arts Office, making the gallery accessible to all attendees. Additionally, open mic sessions invited community members to showcase their talents, further emphasizing inclusivity.

Patingkaran brings together art and community

The "Patingkaran: Culture and Arts Festival," which took place on November 28, 2023, included a Parade of Colors, modern dance competitions, and a Battle of the Bands, all designed to encourage public engagement. Art exhibits and galleries throughout the festival highlighted diverse artistic talents and perspectives, reinforcing the university's commitment to making the arts accessible to everyone.

BatStateU-The NEU hosts art talk and exhibit in its 120th founding anniversary

In light of the celebration of BatStateU-The NEU's 120th founding anniversary, the Office of the Culture and Arts conducted a 4-day art hybrid event consisting of art talk and exhibit featuring some of the famous artists in the Philippines. The event, dubbed as "Dangal", serves as a platform for artists to display their artworks and talk about their creative process and inspiration. Among the invited guests are Frederick Epistola, visual artist, Manny Garibay, award-winning painter and Gabriel Malvar, executive director and producer. The KUNST PILIPINO is a collective of artists from Batangas Province, featuring groups like Arte Bauan, Arte Likha, ChromA, Bagsik, and Sihay Art Group.

They present the DANGAL (meaning pride) Exhibit showcasing the best Batangueño local artists and their influential works. This exhibit aligns with the university's vision to promote art and culture, celebrating its 120th founding anniversary. The theme, "excellence," reflects the institution's status as a premier national engineering university.

The Art Talk offered a chance for the Fine Arts students of BatStateU to learn about different art styles, techniques, and historical contexts, and to deepen their appreciation for the arts. The event also inspired discussions and debates about art, culture, and society, and encouraged students to reflect on their own beliefs and values. The art exhibit was open to the public from April 12 to April 25, 2023.
