

BATANGAS STATE UNIVERSITY

The National Engineering University

“EMPOWERING LEARNERS: A TUTORSHIP INITIATIVE FOR FINANCIALISTS”

The mentorship workshop series is a structured program specifically designed to support first-year Financial Management students, including those who may be academically challenged, in acquiring the essential knowledge, skills, and techniques needed to succeed in their Financial Management and Financial Controllership courses. By focusing on foundational areas such as creating and analyzing financial statements, the workshops aim to build confidence and competence in key areas that students will rely on in their finance careers.

This initiative also emphasizes the importance of collaboration and relationship-building, helping students develop a network of peer support and mentors who can provide guidance and encouragement. By fostering a supportive learning environment within the framework of the JFINEX organization, the workshops serve as a valuable resource for students who may require extra support to reach their academic and professional potential. Overall, this activity has provided help to 16 male students and 57 female students with a total number of 73 students.

Source: College of Accountancy, Business, Economics and International Hospitality Management

Leading Innovations, Transforming Lives
Building the Nation